FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Louis Crosier Joins Foundation for MetroWest Board of Trustees

November 18, 2014: Louis Crosier, president of Wellesley Investment Partners, has joined the Board of Trustees of Foundation for MetroWest (FFMW).

Crosier has substantial experience within the financial industry, having previously served as senior managing director at Windhaven Investment Management and vice president in the Wealth Management Division of Goldman Sachs & Co. He has also authored and edited several books, including Selling Your Business: The Transition from Entrepreneur to Investor.

“Louis brings a wealth of knowledge to Foundation for MetroWest from the financial industry. He has advised clients with a high level of expertise and professionalism that will add tremendous value to each of our donor relationships,” said Bob Brack, chairman of the FFMW board. “We look forward to working with him, learning from him, and leveraging his passion and perspective towards our initiatives and programs.”

Crosier lives in Wellesley with his wife and two children. He enjoys coaching local athletic teams, and is an avid skier and tennis player.

“The Foundation is a very unique and special resource for residents in the MetroWest region who wish to improve aspects of their communities or communities around the world,” said Crosier. “I am very proud to join this important organization and help better serve donors and nonprofit organizations alike.”

Established in 1995, the Foundation for MetroWest is the only community foundation serving the 33 cities and towns in the region; connecting the philanthropic interests of donors with demonstrated need in the areas of Family Support, Arts & Culture, Environment and Youth Development. Through a combination of donor advised funds and unrestricted dollars, the Foundation has granted over $9 million to charitable organizations and currently stewards more than $15 million in charitable assets for current needs and future impact.
